HOUSING

Creating homes &
connecting people

At Westside we give priority to protecting the privacy of your personal information. We do this by handling your information responsibly in line with the Privacy Act 1988.

This brochure details how we use, collect and disclose personal information about you. It replaces any information about privacy we have previously provided to you. Further information is in our Privacy Policy available on our website www.westsidehousing.org.au.

HOW WE COLLECT YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We usually collect personal information directly from the customer. We may also collect it from the customer's support providers, or referral agencies, medical practitioners, law enforcement, dispute resolution, statutory and regulatory bodies and publicly available sources.

WHY WE COLLECT YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We collect personal information to enable us to provide housing services to customers.

WHO WE DISCLOSE PERSONAL INFORMATION TO

We will only share customer's personal information with another individual or organisation when we have the customer's written consent. In certain circumstances we may provide information without the customer's consent to government, law enforcement, and dispute resolution, statutory or regulatory bodies as required by law.

DISCLOSURE OVERSEAS

Westside may use a server hosted overseas to store data, which may include customer's personal information. We regularly review the security of our systems used for storing and sending personal information overseas. Any information disclosed may only be used for the purposes of collection detailed above and system administration.

ACCESS TO YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

Customers can ask for access to the personal information we hold and seek to correct it by contacting our Privacy Officer. We may ask customers to put the request in writing.

COMPLAINTS

Our Privacy Policy contains details of how customers can make a complaint about a breach of privacy principles contained in the Privacy Act 1988 (Commonwealth).
